, POWERS LASHES MORMON CHURCH SENATORS FIGHT HALE

New Developments Expected This Week in Smoot Case.

Fresh Witnesses Coming From Utah to Give Testimony.

Hierarchy a Power to Be Feared in the West.

"What's up?" is, though brief, a complete description of the present status of the Smoot investigation, from any of uncertain, but interesting, nature are hinted at by participants in the official inquiry now in progress by the Schate Committee on Privileges and Elections, but what these developments will be cannot yet be learned

Visit to Utah Likely.

When the committee concludes the present series of dally hearings and adjourns it is expected a subcommittee will shortly afterward be named to go to Utah for further testimony. Hearings there will not be begun, however, until after an interval of several weeks, delay will occur in order that Senators designated for the work may have an opportunity to visit their h attend to matters of private business.

Although no indication has yet been given as to the Senators who will compose the subcommittee, it is considered probable that it will consist of Chairman Burrows and Senators Hopkins and McComas, Republicans, and Senators Dubois and Overman, Democrats. All of these Senators have evinced a personal interest in the work of the in-

Powers Holds Attention.

The only witness heard yesterday was Judge O. W. Powers, of Salt Lake City, who was also on the stand all day Fri-He described the Mormon Church in its industrial activities and assented to Mr. McComas' inquiry as to whether it was not a sort of "trust."

There had been evidence of church domination in the past few weeks in the election of the Smoot delegates to the Republican National Convention, the witness said. The candidates supported by the "Deseret News," the official organ of the church, were elected, and those supported by Senator Thomas Kearns were defeated.

The attitude of the younger element of Mormons is strongly against any reestablishment of polygamy today, the witness said. Members of the "old guard" of Utah citizens, who had fought Mormonism for years, were reconciled to the absence of prosecution against present lawbreakers, he said, in the hope that with toleration the practice would die out with the present generation; but if civil prosecutions could be pointed to as religious persecutions, it might do more than the present inactivity in defeating the ends of justice.

At the afternoon session Judge Powers was cross-examined by Attorney Van Cott, of counsel for Senator Smoot, and testified in a frank and unbiased manner. While admitting the truth of the attorney's carefully worded questions, the witness invariably added a bit of explanation, with a good deal of stins in it.

Opening of the Session.

Judge Powers took the chair at II:10 o'clock and read a paper prepared by supporters of Moses Thatcher, immediately after his defeat in the Utah Legislature of 1897, addressed to the President and Senate of the United States. It gave details of the election and declared there existed in Utah a political organization known as the "Mormon Church," which had interfered in the Senatorial election and pre-vented the election and pre-vented fered in the Senatorial election and prevented the election of Thatcher by throwing its strength to Rawlins.

nator Smoot's name was mentioned by the witness at this point in his testimony. In 1890 at Provo George Sutherland was nominated for mayor against a candidate of the People's (or Mormon) party. Sutherland was supported by Reed Smoot, which caused Smoot to be regarded in disfavor.

POINTS FROM WITNESS' TESTIMONY.

"There has been evidence of church domination in the past few weeks in the electior of the Smoot delegates to the Republican convention."

"The younger men and the younger women of the church are strongly opposed to polygamy." Judge Powers said the worst feature of Mormonism was not polygamy, but the un-American domination by the hierarchy over the people of that "The great mass of the Mormon people are as sincere and conscientious as any people on earth, but they often change their views without apparent reason and always follow the church." Judge Powers took exception to the use of Sundays schools to distribute political literature.

Smoot Delegates Elected.

Chairman Burrows asked the witness whether there was any recent evidence expected from the West. Who they are of the interest of the church in political matters.

"Yes, within the past four or five witness replied. "It was in the contest for delegates to the next Rewas the Smoot-Sutherland faction and witnesses are now on their way to the Kearns faction. The Mormon Church

Winesses are now on their way to Washington.

Chairman Burrows is "mum" as to any matters which may be regarded as of an executive session sort. Attorney Tayler, in response to an inquiry from Colonel Worthington, chief counsel for Senator Smoot, said yesterday afternoon at adjournment: "So far as I am concerned, I think we can get through on Monday—with the present witness." Colonel Worthington is not so sure but that his opponents are planning to spring a big surprise in the nature of unexpected evidence, and is keeping a sharp look oue for developments.

Thatcher to Come Next.

Apart from such unexpected developments, and judging only from present to any matters which is the Kearns faction. The Mormon Church members in political matters. They held conventions, witness said, but did not have any contests. He could not recall any occasion when a candidate who had received the sanction of the church had been defeated.

There is a great Real of the work of the Mormon Church which is kept secret, witness said, and inquiries did not always result in obtaining all the information desired. The chairmen of political parties in Utah had gotten so used to this sort of thing that, in striving for partisan victory, they were very careful to take only those men who were known to have the consent of the church to run, if the candidates were Mormon.

Church Tyranny.

Asked to give the leading instance of church tyranny in political affairs, witness told of the dropping of Moses. Thatcher from the list of apostles and how officials of the Mormon Church in the regular conference on April 6, 1896, approved the action of the higher church authorities. Thatcher had been known as a leader of thought in the State and a prominent man in other ways, but this did not save him.

Opposed by Young Mormons.

Senator McComas asked the witness what is the present attitude of the younger Mormon element toward the practice of polygamy.

"I can safely say the younger men and the younger women of the church are opposed to the practice, strongly opposed to it," witness replied. "Although committee not later than Wednesday church tyranny in political affairs, witnest. "Although I have often been surprised at the power of the church, it is my firm, conscientious opinion, that if the church were to attempt, by revelation or otherwise, to re-establish polygamy, it would have trouble in doing so.

"There is a feeling of toleration for the continuation of polygamous cohabitation by the older members of the church, in the belief that it will die out."

McComas at the Tabernacle.

Senator McComas said he had been n the Mormon Tabornacle in 1870, and and most probably not until June. This that Brigham Young had on that occadelay will occur in order that Senators slon urged the young men to marry. He inquired whether the expense of maintaining several domestic establish. ments had not to some extent affected the continuation of the practice.

the continuation of the practice.

Witness thought that explanation might be in order. "Our young women are beginning to be more like the women of the rest of the world," witness added. "They are getting more in the habit of wearing good clothes and dressing up and taking an interest in the pleasures of the rest of the world. We want to feel we are a part of the great nation and not isolated."

"Doesn't the plural wife have the social standing that the first wife does?" inquired Senator Hopkins.

"Oh, I did not mean to intimate otherwise," replied the witness. "I think they have the same standing."

The dictation of the church in political matters and its effect on the younger element of the church, on men who were politically ambitious, was taken up.

"At the time of the reconvened con-

"At the time of the reconvened convention, of which I spoke on Friday, they were more restive," witness said. "Neither before nor since that time have we had the free expression of opinion that we had at that time. "Some people submit readily, some protestingly, and some will not submit at all to the dictates of the church. I do not think there is any basis for the report that there is a liberal movement in Sait Lake to resist church control. I have seen it in the public press, in dispatches coming from Utah, but I do not believe there is any truth in it at all." Young gave his note to the city in 1875 for $14,000.

The Australian ballot system prevails in Utah, and has for several years, witness said.

Information as to Mormon Republicans, who go out on the stump and proselyte, while the Mormon Democrats stay at home, came to the witness from many sources. An article on the subject had appeared on May 19, 1896, in the "Sait Lake Tribune." and other articles in the "Descret News" and the "Sait Lake Herald."

Reason for Toleration.

Asked whether he could explain why polygamous relations are not prosecuted with vigor today, witness gaid; "I will do so as well as I can. I will hope that with toleration the practice state the views of those who are known

"I have honestly tried not to know about such matters," commented the witness, in relation to plural marriages. "If there are any polygamous marriages at the present time, I think they are sporadic to the present time, I think they are the present time and the present time are the present time. I think they are the present time are the present time are the present time. I think they are the present time are the present time are the present time. I think they are the present time are the present time are the present time are the present time are the present time.

Worse Than Polygamy.

Some surprise was caused at this juncture by the comment of the witness marriage "is not the worst feature of the Mormon religion." As the worst feature, he said:

riefly.

"Were there any women in the Utah riefly that body is inspired. It is the control of that body is inspired. It is the control of the church over politics. It is fly use. Sold exclusively by me.

"I'm sorry the committee chooses to make fish of one and fowl of another," retorted Mr. Pattus. "That is what they have done." The veteran Alabaman's look was one of great disgust as he peered over his gold-bowed spectacles toward Mr. Hale on the other side of the chamber. To Visit St. Louis.

has over all our commerce and industries."

Senator Fettus asked whether the witness could give the estimated value of the corporate interests dominated by the Mormon church. Witness said he could not give a complete list, but named the electric light, street railway, bath houses, and other interests. He said it was not difficult for the Mormon church to get franchises from the Salt Lake City council. Formerly it was Republican, 9 to 8, but now consisted of 8 Mormons and 7 Gentiles.

Senator Hopkins said the Methodist church owned much property in Chicago, and Mr. Worthington added Trinity church in New York.

"The Mormon church in Utah is a trust?" suggested Mr. McComas, and to this the witness assented.

Senator Bahey jokingly suggested that it Mr. Hopkins would have a Methodist bishop subpoenaed to testify as to the activity of that church in real estate in Chicago, some comparison might be had. Mr. Hopkins pleasantly refrained from accepting the suggestion, and Mr. Balley afterward received permission of the chairman to revise that portion of the testimony of Mr. Hopkins and eliminate whatever had no direct bearing on the testimony of the witness.

This, as it afterward developed, was a thrust at Counsel Van Cott himself, who received the blow good-naturedly, and suggested his action had been tather in "supporting the ticket without mentioning the man."

Senators smiled at this sally between counsel and witness and seemed to regard the incident as a not unusual one, as things go in politics.

Senator Dubois interrupted to ask who as the other candidate was at that election, and the witness said he was glad to have the opportunity to tell something about him. The other candidate was painted in a rather undesirable light, making it appear that of the two candidates Roberts was by all means the better.

Witness expressed the view that "Apostle Heber J. Grant was set aside as a Democratic apostle to give us trouble a great many times." Apostle Grant has been given a bad reputation in testimony and in press reports.

MOBILE, Ala., April 23.-A special rom Bayminette says that Sheriff Armstrong has returned from the scene of the murder of Doctor Cole, at Little River, to report to the governor the lynching of Reuben Sims, a negro, by the citizens of Monroe county, at North Baldwin, ten hours before he was noti-Merriment was caused in the commitee room by the next questions relating
